STATUS
Design Concept

Precinct plan for the neighborhood centre and commercial node within the Tilisi Development.

The concept aims to create a high street type of commercial development in a setting that is largely pedestrian. The development is broken up into smaller blocks, creating an area based on human scale that links to the surrounding streetscape and landscape. Building entrances and shop fronts are facing and being accessed directly off the streets, activating the public spaces, and creating a 'village center' in the heart of the Tilisi development.

The public realm is further expanded by utilizing and incorporating proposed setbacks within the blocks, creating generous pedestrian and mixed-use spaces that can accommodate various uses such as markets and events.

The development comprises a mix of retail, hospitality, commercial, and residential development.
